HIGHWAYS CONFIRMED NOT CHANGED

PORTERVILLE, June 30 — Members of the California Highway commission, headed by Chester Warlow, vice chairman, of Fresno, and representatives of the state department of public works, and the state division of highways, confirmed existing road plans in southeastern Tulare county, but gave no indication that any speed-up in construction work can be expected, during a "coffee meeting" at Gang Sue's Monday morning.

Status of major road projects in the area were outlined as follows: Highway 65 from the Deer creek area to White river: Engineering plans at least 10 months away from completion; rights-of-way acquisition in the 1963-64 fiscal year; construction in the 1964-65 fiscal year. This particular project is one that local interests believe is too far down the time schedule.

Highway 190 extension across the Sierra: Possibly in seven or eight years, depending upon program of the U.S. Forest service.

Realignment of highway 190 from south Main street to Plano road, south of Porterville: Design work and rights-of-way acquisition. (Continued On Page 9)

Golf Course Work Start Set For Early July

PORTERVILLE, June 30 — "Dirt will be moved" early in July to start construction on an 18-hole golf course at the northeast end of Success lake, it was stated yesterday by Ed. Olson, of Porterville.

Location of the 320-acre project is: along the Tule river, between the new highway 190 and the old River road, east of the point where 190 crosses the Tule river.

The project, that ultimately calls for construction of a clubhouse, and a subdivision development, is being handled by the Pleasant Valley Development company, that is now being incorporated.

Construction of the golf course is being pushed first, Olson says. It will take about nine months to complete the course, which is being engineered by a specialist in this field.

Wells are also being developed in connection with the project, Olson says. Approval of the project was given last week by the Tulare County Planning commission.

FOUR FISHERMEN INTO PAINTERS BY HELICOPTER

PORTERVILLE, June 30 — Four fishermen dropped into Painters camp on Big Kern river last week by helicopter, making the trip from Dome Rock to the camp in just eight minutes. Flying time in the helicopter is $135 per hour.

Making the helicopter trip were Joe Ridgway, Frank Hallford and Dick Hallford, of Porterville, and Tom Knight, of Los Angeles. With the exception of Ridgway, they came out on horseback.

In the party also were Lucien Scmittou and Dean McComber. They report fishing good — plenty of Rainbows, pan-size, but no big ones.

Thirty-Nine Men Complete Veteran Vo-Ag

PORTERVILLE, June 30 — Thirty-nine Korean War veterans Monday night completed a four-year veteran vocational agriculture class, administered by Porterville college, with Bill Reece as instructor.

Certificates were presented at the final session, indicating successful completion of the course that included instruction in general agriculture of the area, plus farm management.

This is the final class under the federal-state program; only one other veteran vo-ag program is still in operation — at Reedley college, with this class to be concluded within the next few weeks.

The veteran vo-ag program was started at Porterville college and high school shortly after World War II, then was extended to cover Korean veterans.

Committee To Consider Ag. Chemicals

SACRAMENTO, June 30 — Aftermath of the federal ban on cranberries last Thanksgiving because of reported dangerous residue from agricultural chemicals used on the crop, is the appointment, by Governor Edmund G. Brown, of a California committee to study the problem of residue from pesticides and chemicals in relation to food products.

The committee was created, it is said, because of public concern over pesticides and chemical residue. (Continued On Page 8)

PORTERVILLE, June 30 — Dr. Bill Baucum, Porterville optometrist, rated national publicity this month when he, his Arabian horses, and his method of naming his horses was featured in an article in "The Optometric Weekly", a professional publication.

WALTER FAHRNEY TO TULARE CO.?

PORTERVILLE, June 30 — Press-time rumor is that Walter "Cap" Fahrney, who has announced his resignation as farm placement supervisor in Fresno for the state department of employment, will come to Tulare county to work with a group of farmers — mostly citrus and olive growers at present, but with wider membership later — in connection with the securing of adequate farm workers to harvest crops, in the face of the current movement by organized labor to unionize farm workers.

MARIE BREY REELECTED AS SOCIETY HEAD

VISALIA, June 30 — At the annual dinner meeting of the Tulare County Society for Crippled Children, held recently at Estrada's, Miss Frances Marie Brey, of Porterville, was re-elected president of the society.

Free Program At Stadium To Feature Bands, Baton Twirlers, Old Airplanes, Next Monday Night

PORTERVILLE, June 30 — Persons who plan to observe the Fourth of July by staying at home will, for the first time in many years, have a chance, next Monday, to really celebrate this national holiday when the Porterville Exchange club presents a free, evening program at the Porterville College stadium, featuring an old-fashioned fireworks display.

In addition to this climax of an evening program that starts at 8:15 p.m., two bands will entertain — Buck Shaffer's summer recreation band, and the famous Explorer Scout Troop Piper band.

A spectacular display of fire-baton twirling will be presented by Roxaine Martinez, director of the twirling group; Yvonne Evans, Sandy Ledbetter, Beverley Johnson and Margarie Gifford.

Opening the program will be a fly-by of antique airplanes, presented by Joe Pfeifer, commercial operator at the Porterville airport; a color guard will be present from the Porterville National Guard unit, and arrangements are being completed for a display of National Guard military equipment.

During the evening, concession stands will be operated at the stadium. (Continued On Page 10)

NOTE TO EX-G.I.S — SNAFU STILL IN MILITARY

The Weekend Warriors, better known as the 6th Anti-Tank company, from Tulare county, returned from two weeks of training at Camp Pendleton, Saturday. The little journey, which is staged every summer to keep the civilian soldier combat ready, cost the U.S. taxpayers in excess of $300,000, give or take a few thousand dollars, and in a business as big as the U.S. Government, a few thousand dollars more or less doesn't mean too much, apparently.

Originally the training exercises probably wouldn't have cost more than a paltry $100,000 or so. But things sort of got out of hand and the bills began to pile up after a while. First of all the troops were training on the Ontos, a tank-like anti-tank vehicle, and it seems that we managed to turn

KENNEDY REPORTS ON CALCOT OPERATION AT 33rd ANNUAL MEET ATTENDED BY 5,000 AT MOONEY GROVE

BAKERSFIELD, June 30 — Final payment checks totaling nearly $3,200,000 will be paid soon to growers who marketed their cotton through Calcot, Ltd., the past season, General Manager J. Russell Kennedy reported to members during their 33rd annual meeting, Thursday, at Mooney's Grove.

This will make a total of around six and one-quarter million dollars paid to members since February, in addition to original advances.

Kennedy's report highlighted the business meeting which followed a huge barbecued beef lunch served to more than 5,000 persons.

CALCOT OFFICERS REELECTED AT ANNUAL MEETING

BAKERSFIELD, June 30 — The five officers on the board of Calcot, Ltd., were re-elected for another year's term, Thursday, during the organization's 33rd annual meeting at Mooney's Grove.

They include the following: L. W. Frick, of Bakersfield, chairman; Edwin Neufeld, of Wasco, president; Ben H. Hayes, of Madera, senior vice-president; Orval Knox, of Chandler, Arizona, vice-president; and Frank Stockton, of Bakersfield, treasurer. J. Russell Kennedy, of Bakersfield, is the executive vice-president and general manager.

Also during the meeting, 12 directors were re-elected and two newly elected. They include the following: Frank Stockton, Bakersfield; Theodore Heimforth, Rosedale; Edward Gleichner (newly elected), McFarland; Roy Murray, Earlimart; Ralph Piegrass, Visalia; Edgar Wheat, Laton; George Scott, Blythe; Marvin Kahl, Minturn; William McFarlane, Clovis; H. B. Fries, Raisin City; Floyd Wilson (newly elected), Wheeler Ridge; Waldo Weeth, Coalinga; Cecil Crouch, Maricopa, Arizona; and H. M. Knappenberger, Phoenix, Arizona.

MIDGET CAMPERS FROM PORTERVILLE

PORTERVILLE, June 30 — Attending the second annual "Midget" YMCA camp at Tulequoia this week were Dennis Hoey and Patrick Lincoln, of Porterville.

During the morning, the members and guests were served refreshments, participated in a variety of cotton contests and viewed exhibits reflecting some of the organization's third of a century history.

After reviewing the past season's operations, Kennedy complimented the growers and ginners for their recently stepped-up efforts in preserving the inherent qualities for their cotton.

"I cannot over-emphasize the importance of quality preservation," he said.

Continuing, the general manager warned against overheating and over-machining the cotton which results in an increase in short fibers and cause difficulties in spinning.

California and Arizona growers delivered nearly two-thirds of a million bales to Calcot the past season, all of which has been marketed, Kennedy told the huge outdoor audience. Advances to members prior to the final payment had equalled the average government resale price.

Commenting specifically on California cotton, he said mills not only bought out the state's 1959 crop of two million bales but an additional half million bales from government stocks.

Kennedy added, the Calcot staff continues to be aggressively engaged in seeking new users of members' cotton and that the results have certainly been gratifying.

Concerning the present cotton situation, he reported that the current supply of cotton is the lowest since 1933. The U.S. carryover is expected to be seven and a half million bales, a reduction of more than one million bales since August of last year.

This seven and a half million bales is as low as we should go, he warned. Acreage and production should be sufficient in the future to supply all of the nation's domestic and export requirements.

PROTECT OUR COW COUNTIES! VOTE "NO" ON NUMBER 15

If you value your rights in the state legislature, you will decide right now to Vote "No" on proposition 15 on your November 8, general election ballot.

This proposition 15 would reapportion the California State Senate on an arbitrary basis, cutting the state in two at a permanent, artificial line that would generally give southern California 20 state Senators and the rest of the state 20 Senators and thereby virtually place control of the California legislature in the hands of Los Angeles.

At present, Californians elect their legislature on the so-called "federal system", a completely fair plan, in which members of the lower house, the State Assembly, are determined on a basis of population, while members of the State Senate are determined on an area basis, with, for the most part, each county having one Senator.

This equalizes representation, in that the heavily-populated metropolitan areas of the state control the Assembly, while the less populated areas — the "cow counties" — have their strong voice in the Senate.

If this system of legislative balance is broken, metropolitan areas, particularly Los Angeles, will control the legislature, and we in the "cow counties" will have little to say about state legislative matters.

The present, "federal system" is a fair system; the proposed new system is a dictatorial system that is completely unfair.

Proposition No. 15 grew out of the thirst of certain Los Angeles county supervisors for higher taxes. The Los Angeles supervisors tried to wrangle a measure through the state legislature to place a so-called "possessory interest tax" on defense industries.

This tax grab was attempted despite the fact that defense industries provide tens of thousands of jobs and paychecks for Californians — and despite the fact that the proposed tax would have provided all the argument necessary for the Federal government to heed the wishes of other states trying to lure defense industries away from California.

The State Senate wisely turned thumbs down on this job-destroying, business-curbing scheme.

Then, in retribution, the chairman of the Los Angeles board of supervisors launched this State Senate - packing proposal to destroy the legislators who had protected the State from this dangerous tax scheme he sponsored.

The grave problems that California faces now and in the future — how to solve the desperately urgent problem of bringing water from surplus areas to shortage areas at reasonable cost and with proper guarantees for both, how to provide adequate public schools and roads and other services — can only be solved in an atmosphere of essential harmony and inter-regional trust. They can't be solved by drawing a "Mason-Dixon" line in California.

If we farm-area people want to continue to have a voice, through our representatives, in the California legislature, Vote "No" on 15.

BASIC POLICY UNCHANGED ON OFF-STREET PARKING

Purchase of the Cobb-Divizich parking lot through joint financial participation by interested merchants and the city of Porterville does not represent a major policy change in the city of Porterville.

Certainly, there is no intent on the part of city councilmen to make any change in policy to continue to use money derived from parking meters within the city to provide more off-street parking.

And it is not the intent of the council to say that in all future parking lot purchases, there must be participation by merchants.

Nor is it likely that there will be any change in the pattern that has seen off-street parking provided by the city for general use, and by specific businesses for exclusive use.

It may well be, however, that city councilmen may take a closer look at parking lot benefits in the future — benefits as related to public gain and private individual gain from the expenditure of public money for parking lots.

It was this point that had to be cleared up in the Cobb-Divizich proposition, for it was the opinion of councilmen who opposed purchase of this lot entirely with public money that there was too much gain to private individuals, whose businesses are closely associated with this lot, compared to general public gain; the question was never whether or not this particular property is a desirable parking lot.

By joint financial participation, the element of private gain in relation to general public good from expenditure of public funds was equalized. This is the basic fact that brought the final, unanimous vote of the council to participate in purchase of the lot.

There is one fact that must always be borne in mind when considering off-street parking: Every lot has its own, unique problems; every parking lot has a different relationship to general and specific benefits, depending upon its location.

Now, what is the general thinking of the Porterville city council in regard to off-street parking? It would appear to be this: Adequate parking facilities are essential to a city in these modern times; public parking lots should, whenever possible, be purchased by the city, rather than leased, in order to assure continuation of these lots for parking in the years to come; there is no completely uniform policy that can be applied without variation to every parking lot when considering purchase or lease, since each lot has its peculiar problems and situation; certain controls are essential to on-street and off-street parking to meet the problem of adequate parking for shoppers, without ignoring the fact that persons who work in stores must leave their cars someplace during the work day; parking meter money must continue to be used to provide off-street parking.

So the Cobb-Divizich parking lot deal has not changed basic city policy in regard to off-street parking. It may have, however, brought a new concept of joint financial participation that seems to have met with general public approval, and that, in certain similar cases, might well be used again in the future.

YOUR LEGISLATOR AT WORK!

Senator
J. Howard Williams
32nd District
California State Legislature

Home ownership is so much a part of our American way of life that it is practically one of the unalienable rights guaranteed by our national Constitution. Our astounding growth here in California during the past decade has no more accurate measure than the multitude of subdivisions which have sprung up, north, south and everywhere, to satisfy this "homing" instinct.

But as might have been expected, this startling upsurge in home construction and ownership has brought with it some major problems which have required legislative consideration and action. The financing of home buying is a particularly complicated area which has demanded both national and state legislative attention. Since most home purchases are financed by loans, the interests of both borrowers and lenders have had to be closely guarded.

In our special session earlier this year, our attention was directed to the serious situation being created by the rapid rise in "trust deed" transactions — a form of second mortgage not then too well controlled by law. On the basis of evidence that innocent borrowers could lose their homes because of hidden encumbrances, and that lenders investing in such could lose their funds, we passed two measures, now law, to bring the market in trust deeds under control and make sure all parties are fully protected.

Since some factors in the situation could not be dealt with in law, considerable latitude was left to administrative regulation. However, to maintain legislative authority, the Assembly sub-committee on real estate contracts and trust deeds was set up to keep a continuous watch on the matter. Recently this group held a two-day session to hear from all segments of the home finance and construction business on regulations proposed by the corporation commission to govern trust deed transactions.

As proposed before the sub-committee these regulations would require a pooling arrangement for all trust deed transactions made by any dealer, to minimize the effect of individual losses, and would also call for at least $100,000 in issued capital stock for any dealer.

Some very interesting facts about the trust deed business, not widely enough known, were presented to the sub-committee. The total volume of transactions in California is estimated at between $500 and $600 million annually, not a small figure by any standard. The business of one large broker-dealer was fixed at about $30 million per year, and that of the smallest at $1.5 million. One dealer was reported to have made a net profit of $75,000 in one month on an issued capital of only $10,000.

PORTERVILLE, June 30 — A tionally recognized photographer and Porterville citrus grower.

Hilton suggested that with co-operation of the Porterville Camera club, a half-hour program, suitable for clubs and schools, could be developed, with set of pictures used to be taken over a period of a year to show the different seasons.

Chamber directors voted to sponsor the project as a publicity outlet for the community.

Billingsley Cow Tops Association
VISALIA, June 30 — A grade Holstein in the herd of E. M. Billingsley, of Tulare, topped the Tulare County Dairy Herd Improvement association for the month of May with production, for a 305-day lactation period, of 23,865 pounds of milk and 916.6 pounds of butterfat.

Strong support for the regulations was voiced by spokesmen for independent mortgage brokers, the very group to be supervised. They maintained that the danger of the current situation is being aggravated daily, and predicted that failure to put controls on promptly could produce the biggest financial scandal in California history before the end of the year.

Teachers Attend Cal Poly Meeting

PORTERVILLE, June 30 — Ray Kennedy and Bill Stroud, of the Porterville high school vocational agriculture staff, last week attended the 41st annual California Agricultural Teachers' association conference on the California State Polytechnic college campus at San Luis Obispo. WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:

- Delivery Time • Arthritis

Q. "On our baby ward the 'rush hour' for new arrivals seems to be during the wee morning hours. Is this the general rule?"—A student nurse.
A. Based on an analysis of 33,215 births, more babies are born between 1 A.M. and 3 A.M. than during any other two-hour period. To which many grandmothers will reply, "I knew it all the time."

Q. Can you inherit arthritis?
A. Perhaps not directly but a tendency to develop the disease seems to be inherited. Studies show that arthritis occurs much more frequently among relatives of arthritic sufferers than among relations of non-arthritics. This is especially true in cases of "gouty arthritis."

Answers do not necessarily reflect the opinion of all doctors. The diagnosis and treatment of disease is the function of the patient's personal physician.

By BILL RODGERS

AREA PLANNING commission for Tulare county has been dumped, at least for the coming fiscal year, by refusal of the county board of supervisors to budget money for development of a so-called area plan. Vote to remove area planning commission money from the 1960-61 county budget was 4-1, with Supervisor Cummings voting in favor of area planning that would have cost the county $75,198, and cooperating cities of the county another $37,598. Just the night before the county dropped area planning, the council of the city of Porterville voted 4-1 not to enter into the plan, which would have cost Porterville $5,512, with Councilman Hamilton favoring participation in area planning.

WE BELIEVE that it was a wise move to drop the idea of an area planning commission. Of course, we have opposed this plan since it was first suggested about three years ago, and our reasons for opposing are the same now as they were in the beginning: There is no need to create a third level of planning in Tulare county; there is nothing in the proposed area plan that cannot be accomplished, in fact that should not be accomplished, through cooperation between county and cities planning commissions and planning officials.

WE FIRMLY believe in cities planning their incorporated areas, and this is being done; we believe cities may well do some planning in their "metropolitan" areas in cooperation with the county planning commission; we believe that the present Tulare county planning commission should actually do the planning that the California Planning act says it should do on a county-wide basis.

WE ARE told that county supervisors have in mind the addition of an associate planner to coordinate work of cities and county planning commissions. This, we believe is good; it is the basic thing we have been advocating right along.

BUT IT is questionable whether any planning in Tulare county will work as well as it should until such time as the board of supervisors faces the facts of life and gets a competent planner to head things up in Tulare county. We have nothing personal against the present county planning director, Harry Conaway; to us it seems that he has been moved up too fast, that he's quarterbacking the varsity when he should still be understudying a good first string quarterback.

SO WE say that with the present turn of events in the very important field of planning, elected city and county officials should get together — possibly through the Tulare County Cities association, and start working with the tools at hand — their existing cities and county planning commissions, with their associated planners and engineers — setting up a program of cooperation in planning through which cities and the county assume their rightful VISALIA, June 30 — Chairman Jack Sherman of Tulare has called a special meeting of the Area Planning commission for 8:00 p.m. tonight, in room 105 of the County courthouse in order to consider recent developments regarding Area planning and to chart a future course of action that will lead to an area plan at an early date, according to Harry Conaway, secretary of the Area planning commission.

OPPOSITION VOICED TO BALLOT PROPOSITION NO. 15 THAT WOULD REAPPORTION THE STATE SENATE

SAN FRANCISCO, June 30 — Leaders from all 58 California counties are uniting to defeat Proposition No. 15 as "one of the most dangerous measures ever presented to California voters", it was announced today by three noted Californians, signers of the official Voters Argument against the measure.

The official signers of the "No on No. 15" argument include leaders from North and South, from Los Angeles and San Francisco, and from both political parties.

They are J. F. Sullivan, Jr., San Francisco, chairman, Californians Against Proposition No. 15; Joseph L. Wyatt, Jr., Los Angeles, president of the California Democratic Council; and George W. Millias, Gilroy, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee.

"By contrast, the strictly local sponsorship of Proposition No. 15 is dramatized by the fact that only Los Angeles people signed the 'Yes' argument," Chairman Sullivan said. "Thus the bizarre character of this measure is exposed by the sponsors themselves — a Los Angeles clique versus all California."

(The three signers of the argument for the proposition are Los Angeles County Supervisor Frank Bonelli, James L. Beebe of the Los Angeles chamber of commerce, and Mrs. Leland Atherton Irish of Los Angeles.)

"Proposition No. 15 to reapportion the State Senate would wreak havoc in our state government and adversely affect the jobs and prosperity of every California citizen," Sullivan, Wyatt and Millias charged.

"Proposition No. 15," they declared, "would split the state by packing the Senate on a completely arbitrary, divisive basis."

"Should Proposition No. 15 become law," they said, "no public issue could ever again be decided by the Legislature of California except on the basis of raw political power."

They pointed out that Proposition No. 15 is opposed by California's Governor Edmund G. Brown.

"Proposition No. 15 in fact is opposed by leaders of both political parties and by a host of civic organizations throughout the state," they declared.

"The grave problems that California faces now and in the future — the urgent water problem, adequate public schools and roads and other problems — can only be solved in an atmosphere of essential harmony. They can't be solved by drawing a 'Mason-Dixon' line in California."

Zonta Club Is Commended

Prayer is the greatest force in the universe. Ask any person who has had prayers answered — minister, housewife, ditch digger, or reformed criminal.

With evil forces like hatred and H-bombs terrifying men today, it is comforting to remember that prayer transcends all other powers. Why is prayer such a dynamic weapon? Prayer releases the immeasurable treasure of heaven. Prayer moves the arm of Almighty God. Prayer touches the loving heart of God.

Those who touch God's heart and move His arm see amazing results.

One of the most amazing answers to prayer in modern times is the Battle of Dunkirk.

Dunkirk spelled disaster for the Allies, in World War II. France had fallen. British soldiers—300,000 of them — were trapped and fleeing towards the coast. Hitler was laughing. With Britain's army destroyed, he could easily invade and conquer her.

King George, realizing Britain's danger, decreed a day of prayer throughout the whole British Empire.

God heard those prayers. God's mighty arm moved. He poured rain on the German military machine. Tanks bogged down in the mud. Every plane was grounded. Not a soldier could move. At the same time, God was actively helping the weary, starving remnants of the British army. The English Channel was smooth as glass, permitting thousands of English boats of all description to venture to the French coast in a daring rescue effort.

Miraculously, some 29,000 British soldiers were rescued. Hitler lost the Battle of Dunkirk. He lost his opportunity to invade the British Isles. He lost the war. Because of prayer.

In this critical hour, with America threatened by enemies without and within, the Christian should pray earnestly. He should sing "Sweet hour of prayer," and mean it.

icable and will probably never do anyone a bit of good.

But, let's look at the gainful side of the picture. The 6th Anti-Tank company now has more than 80 men who can operate the Ontos. A weapon that is obsolete and ineffective, in our opinion. The mission of the Ontos is to destroy the enemy tank. The Ontos has a top speed of 35 miles an hour, down hill, and with a tail wind; the effective range of its recoilless rifles is 1,000 yards. The big enemy tanks that they are expected to destroy are capable of traveling 50 miles an hour, and their cannon is highly accurate at distances up to 5,000 yards. And they are equipped with radar to seek out hidden targets. We ventured to ask how we were supposed to cope with tanks with this inferior weapon and were told that the Ontos is a hit and run weapon. Our interpretation of this is that after we were hit by an enemy shell we get out and run, if able.

Still on the bright side of the picture is the monetary gain of those who attend summer camp. We, being Private First Class Harp, were paid $41.00 for our two weeks of work. Each day we worked for between 15 and 18 hours. We figured that we were paid about 18c an hour. But sometimes we didn't even earn our 18c, because we probably spent at least six hours of each day waiting, and waiting, and waiting. Waiting for the next class, waiting for chow, waiting for transportation. Hurry up and wait is an ancient, but true, saying of the Marine Corps.

But we have one good memory of our two weeks in Southern California. We caught five fish in the Oceanside surf.

obligations for planning, and, through cooperation, naturally develop coordinated planning throughout Tulare county.

IT DOESN'T take a third planning commission to do this. All the necessary machinery is present in existing cities and county planning commissions.

THE ONLY question now is whether or not city and county officials will let by-gones be by-gones; whether or not certain personal ambitions will be curbed; whether or not city and county officials are really anxious to do a job of planning, or are really only interested in certain political ends.

FOR OUR part, we say, "Forget this area planning commission idea; let the dead past bury its dead; let's get the planning show on the road."

Nursery
By John

There are many odd things around the nursery these days besides ourselves, which might bear some discussion. This includes such items as squirrels, chipmunks, egrets, flamingos, and gnomes. The squirrels are exceptionally realistic. They are like the bright-eyed and bushy tailed type of animal that you see around the forest. However they're made of cement and require no feeding.

Another thing that will give your cat nightmares is the chipmunk. This is made of a special weatherproof material with a light inside for outdoor decoration. However, most of them end up indoors as a night light for the children's room. Anyway you use them they're quite a sight and are guaranteed not to play the harmonica.

The egrets are a molded rubber bird for outdoor use. Most people think they're storks and run the other way, but actually they're quite harmless and add a special touch to your garden. The flamingos are also created from molded rubber. These usually require a special spot beside a pool or a bird bath. If you don't have a bird bath, we'll be glad to provide one — For a price.

Gnomes are little elf-like creatures. Our book says they were fabulous goblins in their day but this was before our time. They are happy looking little characters holding a pot which can be planted or used as a place to store your sewing.

These can all be seen at Daybell's zoo on "E" Street, north of Olive, Porterville.

FISHIN'

By Slim Washburn

Prospects are for good fishing for the Fourth of July weekend on most of the Tule river watershed. Streams will be heavily stocked with catchable trout, and the native fish are hitting well.

The water is getting low between Springville and the PG&E powerhouse, but there is plenty of water on the Nelson fork everywhere above the powerhouse. The water is good on the Wishon fork above Camp Wishon, and on the North Fork above Osborn crossing. Tributaries are getting low on all forks.

Big and Little Kern rivers, reached from the pack stations at Quaking Aspen, are both good.

Big Kern is excellent above Grass-hopper flat. Coyote lake is good.

In the high country, reached from Balch park pack station, streams are getting low, but fishing is still good. Maggie, Blossom and Hidden lakes are very good.

BE AWARE?

There are so many deaths caused from fighting in battles. Let's not add to the mortality rate by careless driving on the FOURTH OF JULY. VALLEY BODY COMPANY says: "TAKE IT EASY, and drive a well cared for car, at all times, by visiting US when it needs WHEEL ALIGNMENT, GLASS, BODY AND FENDER WORK, or a PAINT JOB."

JUST RIGHT

It is costly not to fertilize when you should. It is also costly to fertilize when there is no need for it. Best production, highest quality and the most profits go to the grower who uses the correct amount of fertilizer, not the one who uses the most.

Our service includes collection, soil and leaf tests and recommendations, all for $0.50 an acre, with a $12.50 minimum.

You can't afford not to take advantage of this new service.

Observance of the Fourth of July, with the fireworks display staged by professionals in this field, has been taken on as a community project by the new Porterville Exchange club. General chairman of the program is John Keck; master-of-ceremonies will be Ray Holloway; welcome will be extended by Porterville Mayor Bill Rodgers.

Working on the Exchange club committee are: Jerry Letsinger, Roger Lane, Larry Hodgson, Bob Evans, Gib Gimble, and from the Porterville City Recreation department, Director Al Melcer.

crete loading slab, a 20,000 gallon borate solution storage tank, and a small "ready room." Agreement for use of the airport was signed at a special meeting of the city council Tuesday afternoon.

Eldon Ball, Sequoia National Forest supervisor, says that while the installation is for Forest service use, there will be cooperation with the California Division of Forestry, and the National Park service when needed.

Eleven borate planes have been working off the Porterville airport this week fighting the fire in the Tunnel rock area of Sequoia National park.

Our Town

By GARDNER WHEELER

REMEMBER, WE ALL HAD TO LEARN TO DRIVE SOMETIME

ANY CITIZEN OF OUR town would have to be very myopic indeed, not to have noticed a fleet of Ford station wagons creeping here and there about the highways and by-ways. What attracts attention to these vehicles are signs scattered promiscuously about the chassis, with the slogan, "Driver Education", lettered on them. To the initiated, these signs can be variously translated to read, "Danger!", "Look out!" or just plain, "Get out of the way."

THESE CARS ARE THE driver training cars, and they ply their trade hereabouts from seven in the morning, until the instructors collapse from exhaustion. It seems that every time we turn around, one is ahead of us or behind us. A close scrutiny of the passengers usually reveals four teen-agers who are in speaking distance of fifteen years old. One of these has the wheel in hand and is exuding all the confidence one would have if he had a grip on a bear's tail. Beside him sits the grim-faced, iron-nerved instructor ready to push the panic button or the brake, should the various negotiations get out of hand.

WITH TWINS ABOUT THE premises, we manage to get two versions of the driver training course each day. These daily reports should be reduced to writing, because for sheer excitement and confusion, they are unparalleled. We have learned more about teen age driving faults in the last few days than we believed existed. For instance, one Susan always laughs with glee as she kills the motor repeatedly. Jon can't shift gears without grinding and grating for about five minutes. Jane climbed the curb when she tried to parallel park, etc., etc. This proposition has opened a whole new avenue for social living. Daily the trainees take their stints, and if my hearing hasn't failed me, it is more fun than three picnics and a hay-ride rolled into one. This is education with social overtones and is also a fine commentary on the patience of the teachers.

SO YOU CITIZENS, take heed. When you see a car with "Driver Education" emblazoned on it, detour to the nearest parking space until the whirlwind of grinding gears passes. And those of you who feel called upon to honk your horn and scream invectives at the trainees who have stalled in front of you, act your age. We all had to learn to drive some time or other, and we question if your goings and comings are so important that a few moments can't be spared.

ready selected; instead he selects a name of a current frame manufactured by Shuron Optical company to identify his long legged foals.

"Thus, 'Ronsir', and 'Ronlady' fit immediately into his scheme of things. Of course, the optical manufacturer is delighted to have its frame products used by purebred Arabian horses . . ."

The article also tells something of Dr. Bill's family background in Porterville, mentioning among other things, that his grandfather, Dr. J. L. Hardeman, "was also a breeder of fine saddle horses in partnership with State Senator J. Howard Williams' father — about 1890, in Porterville."
